TRADING DULL AND INCONCLUSIVE ON SATURDAY'S MARKET

Leading Stock Regulated to Comparative Obscurity and Specialties Take Lead. Copper Demand is Strong.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Trading was dull, irregular and inconclusive. Leading stocks were regulated to comparative obscurity, their places being taken by such specialties as United States Industrial Alcohol, Corn Products and other kindred issues.

United States Steel was under further pressure. Bethlehem Steel showed a loss of 12 points at the close. War shares were moderately higher. Stocks of no special designation rose a point or two.

Representative shares, particularly the rails, were inclined to sag. New York Central was the active feature of the railroad group. Total sales of stocks, 190,000 shares.

The demand for copper showed no abatement. Bonds were steady with total sales of $1,995,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

(By Levy Bros.)

Through special effort and the saving of no expense, we have been able to give our clientele the first quotations in the district since the storm. The news that copper metal has reached 30 cents was brought to this district first, by our service.

Southern Pacific Company add several thousand cars to their equipment. Reports of National City Bank indicate early establishment of new high records in many lines of trade.

U. S. Steel will spend $2,000,000 to enlarge Milwaukee plant.

Copper production in 1915 estimated 1,961,283 metric tons.

Canada's grain crop 1915 valued at $800,000,000.

Rheumatism

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address.

Years of awful suffering and misery have been mine. I was a sufferer from rheumatism for three years. I tried almost every remedy, and doctor after doctor, but could not get any relief. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed.

I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed. I was so weak and so miserable that I could not even get out of bed.

PROBLEM WHETHER EPISCOPAL CLERGY MAY ENTER COMBAT

Curates Petition Bishop of London for Permission to Enlist; Urge Demands of Nation for Recruits.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The petition which over a thousand curates in London are presenting to the Bishop of London brings to a fresh stage the question as to whether clergymen of the established church (Episcopalian) should be allowed to enlist. According to the established rule of the Anglican church, clergymen are forbidden to serve in the fighting forces, except as chaplains of non-combatants. The clergymen signing the petition to the Bishop are of military age and would have enlisted long ago, they say, but for violating the law of the church.

A discussion has been carried on in the open letter columns of the newspapers for some time in this regard. Opposition to enlistment by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the various bishops rests on the theory that by ordination the clergymen are dedicated for ever to God's service, and that the profession of a soldier is incompatible with the priesthood. This has some support in the church and the laity. But the more popular point of view is that there are wars often based on righteousness, and self-sacrifice for a righteousness cause is one of the ideals of the church.

"They tell their people every day," writes the rector of Stockbridge in regard to the clergy, "that every man who offers himself as a soldier saves the lives of many of his countrymen; it is therefore necessary, if more and more lives are to be saved, that more and more men must offer. We are also preaching that this is a righteous war."

He then asks: "Should not the clergy lead in the promotion of righteousness? And if it is true that by the war the principle of righteousness will be more firmly established than ever before, is not that a work fit for a priest, or even a bishop?"

The clergymen signing the petition address the following letter to the Bishop of London:

We, the signatories of this letter, believing that the needs of our country demand the most efficient utilization of the nation's resources, respectfully request your lordship to—

1. Consider the possibility of so reorganizing the work of the diocese as will permit of the largest number of clergy being set free for whole or part time for work directly in connection with the war.

2. Invite all clergy of military age to offer themselves for those branches of national service for which your lordship deems them suitable, and to undertake whatever work may, in accordance with this action, be allotted them.

3. Consider if it be not possible to waive the rule which at present prohibits clergy from serving in the combatant ranks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20. (Delayed).—A telegram from the president of the Chinese republic association at Shanghai, and revolutionary leaders, announced the first division of the Chinese government army was stationed at Kailashan, seventy miles from Peking and are expected to join the revolution against President Yuan Shi Kai.

IVANHOE OPENS GOOD GRADE ORE

many shipped bullion to the San Francisco market valued at something over $90,000 representing the December clean-up.

Part of the new machinery for the United Eastern Company, consisting of 150 horsepower electric hoist, 785 foot compressor, and some lighter equipment, has arrived in Kingman and is being conveyed to the property as rapidly as possible. Officials of the United Eastern state that plans for the proposed new mill have been completed, and that its erection will be rushed as rapidly as possible. This latter information would seem to indicate that the officials of the United Eastern do not believe that any pending negotiations relative to the consolidation of the Tom Reed and United Eastern will be successful. If the two properties were to combine, it is very evident that they would operate but one mill, thus materially keeping down the over-head expense.

The new machinery plant of the Boundary Cone is now in action. The new 50-horsepower hoist is running, and a big compressor is to be installed. The shaft will be sunk down from its present depth, 550 feet, to 750 feet, and cross-cuts run at 650 and at 750 feet to develop the splendid body of ore encountered at 550 feet.

The Big Jim is steadily carrying its shaft downward, and has attained a depth of 410 feet. Stations will be cut at 500 and at 600 feet, and skip then driven in commission, and cross-cuts driven to the big vein which was opened at 400 feet.

Edward W. Brooks, the well-known mining engineer, in a late report on the property of the Outman Gold Mining and Milling Co., expressed his belief that the cross-cut on the 310 foot level which penetrated the vein more than 30 feet in depth, is above the ore. He believes that development at 100 or 200 feet deeper will find an important ant ore body and this company is now starting to follow out his suggestions.

In the United Western property extensive cross-cutting operations are in progress on the 505 foot level, to the south a cross-cut is out 178 feet, to the southwest another cut is out 150 feet, and to the north a cross-cut is out 120 feet. The cross-cuts to the southwest and to the north are encountering many stringers of quartz ore showing high mineralization.

A compressor and a new hoist have been installed on the Carter property, and drills will be started this week. After further exploration of the ore-containing vein cut at the 250 foot level, the shaft will be sunk to the 500 foot point, and extensive development done at depth. The operators believe that the splendid body of ore developed at 250 feet depth is the top of an important ore shoot which, judging by the character of the vein, is expected to continue to extreme depth.

The Ivanhoe, Jerome-Outman, United Western, Arizona-Tom Reed, Outman, Outman Gold Mining & Milling Co., Telluride and Black Range are now at points in development where discoveries of ore may be looked for at any time.

In the central part of the district the Essenden, Gold Range, Lucky Boy and Sunnyside, are just a little ways behind them in point of development.

The district at this time seems to be in its most interesting stage. The discoveries of ore in the Big Jim, Boundary Cone, Carter and Gold Ore have caused much excitement, and should any one of the properties named just above come into ore within a comparatively short time, popular interest in this new gold camp will be doubled and quadrupled.

THE HABIT OF TAKING COLD

With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not ice cold, but a temperature of about 90° F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.
